The ISIA's Secure Data Destruction division is delighted to announce the launch of its Guidance Document on Secure Data Destruction. To mark the launch of this guidance document, we will be holding a seminar on data protection and the secure destruction of data with an exciting line up of seminar speakers.

Those who attend will receive updates on:

- » Your legal responsibilities under the new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).
- » The practical commercial application of the new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).
- » Applying the ISIA's Guidance Document on Secure Data Destruction to your business.
- » Managing the risks your business could face when holding and destroying data.

The event will be opened by the Minister of State with responsibility for European Affairs and Data Protection, Dara Murphy TD.

Who Should Attend?

Anyone with responsibility for managing data, risk or legal compliance.
